AUDITOR'S REPORT.

Hon. Winfield T. Durbin, Governor of Indiana:

Sir—I have the honor to herewith submit for your examination the report of the Auditor of State for the fiscal year ending October 31, 1904, giving in detail the fiscal affairs of the State, with an elaborate showing of receipts and disbursements and exhaustive tabulations reviewing abstracts of county assessments and settlements; valuable data, associated with tax levies, duplicates, and all features associated with the assessment, collection and disposition of public revenues. I have also submitted extended reports of the insurance, land, building association, banking and trust bureaus, with suggestions as provided by statute, that in my judgment would be of benefit to the people in strengthening the law as to the efficiency of these agencies of public utility.

ACCOUNTING DEPARTMENT.

There is now levied for State purposes an aggregate tax of $30\frac{3}{4}$ cents on each $100. Of this amount, nine cents is for the General Fund, and five cents for the Benevolent Institution Fund. From the levies in these funds combined come to the State all the taxes that are, or can be used for the general expense of the State, and said taxes amounted last year to $2,127,427.04. The levy for school purposes is 11 cents on the $100, and the taxes resulting are distributed pro rata among the different counties, according to the numeration of school children. This tax aggregated last year $1,763,663.30. The specific levy of three cents on each $100 for payment on the public debt amounted to $438,400.64, and was immediately applied to the purposes of its collection. The Educational Institution tax of one and two-thirds cents on each $100, amounted to $329,621.39, and was distributed as the law provides: four-elevenths thereof to the Indiana University, three-elevenths thereof to the State Normal School, and four-elevenths thereof to Purdue University.

The tax duplicates of the State amounted to $1,543,861,729. The amount of delinquent tax is $2,491,841.63. There can be no legitimate reason to justify such a large delinquency. In this season of universal prosperity, if taxes can not be collected, there must be some radical wrong, proceeding from local causes. It is manifestly a very grave injustice to the taxpayers who meet these contributions for the operating expenses of government, that such a large per cent. of their neighbors are permitted to either go scot-free, or do indifferently, and often inadequately, what should be the very first patriotic duty of good citizenship. Thousands of dollars are absolutely lost, by either going off the duplicates through insolvency, or the removal of delinquents to other locations. The Legislature recently endeavored to cure this wrong by increasing the treasurer's fees two per cent., but still the evil exists, and in my judgment, because of the lack of heroic enforcement of the present laws. I believe the State Tax Commissioners are delegated powers by the statute to supervise delinquent taxes in the different counties, but if additional legislation is necessary, it ought to be supplied, to the end that these omissions of public duty and omissions of tax payments should cease. The yearly conference of County Assessors with the State Board of Tax Commissioners has introduced uniformity into the valuations of farm and other tangible personal values, but money, notes, bonds, bank deposits, while to a gratifying degree have been brought from hiding, still, even with this united and earnest effort, through misrepresentation, largely remain in seclusion. The exemption through perjury of such an aggregate of personal valuations, necessarily causes a higher levy on the property honestly returned, besides destroying the equality of taxation, which is the first principle of political economy.

The maintenance cost of the State institutions, notwithstanding the increased prices of many articles entering into consumption, has been within the appropriations, and there will be no deficits for the Legislature to provide for. The cost of excess population above the basis fixed for the regular maintenance appropriations in the larger institutions was $46,606.18; the uniform accounting system of debits and credits from purchase to consumption, the competitive plan of buying with discounts for cash, the cultivation of the ground and the raising of stock where institutions have farm lands, has lessened the cost of vegetables, meats, potatoes and milk, quite perceptibly, and is manifest in the excellent comparison of per capita with the years past. I believe a very decided saving could be had by purchasing supplies for all the State institutions in one competitive bid, on the general plan adopted by the Government in the buying of army subsistence. The State is a cash customer, it is the largest concentrated consumer, and if all its wants in all its varied lines of maintenance supplies were combined, the competition would be contested more closely and the interest of dealers more general. The delivery of supplies would be a mere incident and the stock objection to a central system of purchase, because of the imagined troubles over delivery, would not be held worthy of serious consideration.

In making specific appropriations, I would respectfully suggest, especially in the erection of new buildings, that there be no room for doubt in framing the intention of the Legislature. I have endeavored to apply the same construction upon appropriations in this regard, as pertain to general usage in private business, but to avoid controversy and prevent imposition upon the State, exactness of detail should be used in all specific appropriations, especially.

THE STATE'S FINANCES.

The minutiæ of detail in this report need not be repeated in this general statement of the State's finances. The fidelity to proper accountings in conformity to the "Mull" law, and the statutes of 1901 specifically pertaining to the State's institutions, are strictly observed in all disbursements, and the integrity of all appropriations preserved.

Payments on the public debts have been made as follows:

November, 1903, 3½ per cent. Refunding Bonds, 3 per cent. basis	$85,000 00
January 4, 1904, 3½ per cent. Refunding Bonds, 3 per cent. basis	200,000 00
July, 1904, 3 per cent. Refunding School Bonds at 99½	200,000 00
July, 1904, 3 per cent. Refunding School Bonds	50,000 00
Total	$535,000 00

It is probable $200,000 additional can be applied in January, 1905. The amount of the public debt is as follows:

3 per cent. School Fund Refunding Bonds, with option clause, redeemable at the pleasure of the State	$613,000 00
3½ per cent. Temporary Fund Bonds, redeemable after 1910	800,000 00
Purdue University, 5 per cent	340,000 00
Indiana University, 5 per cent	144,000 00
State Stock Certificate	5,615 12
Total	$1,902,615 12

It will be seen there is only $613,000 of debt bearing the option clause. It would be better to pay a slight premium if necessary, and first take up the $800,000 not redeemable until 1910, permitting the option bonds to run, until all three and one-half per cent. bonds are paid, and thus wipe out all of the State debt within three years. The three per cent. specific debt levy realizes about $440,000 yearly, and this will readily meet all of the State's obligations in three years if the 1910 bonds can be purchased. There should be no reduction of the State tax levy. The debt paying record has not been at the expense of a proper care of the State's needs in any direction. The growing demands of our institutions have been generally met. A continuance of the present tax levy will supply ample revenues for the necessities of a State increasing as is Indiana, and keep our institutions on their present level of excellence. The levy is one of the lowest of any State in the Union, and would not be ample were it not for the condensed system of government, free as it is from cumbersome bureaus, and the salary basis of State officials, which this year turned near $495,000 of fees in the public treasury.

ADVANCE PAYMENTS.

I call attention to the following situation regarding the State's financial condition on account of the General Fund. That fund is constantly anticipated before settlements by County Treasurers at both the May and December settlements by way of advance payments, sometimes reaching the sum of $645,000. At the close of the last fiscal year there remained in the Treasury a balance in the General Fund of $60,601.93, and at the same time the counties had paid in as advancements on December, 1904, settlement the sum of $154,740. If the funds for the year of 1905 had not thus been anticipated the General Fund would have stood overdrawn to the amount of $94,138.07. And on the 30th of November, 1904, there remained in the General Fund the sum of $249,996.03, with advance payments made in the sum of $484,740, leaving an overdraft of $234,743.97 without these advancements having been made.

COLLEGE FUND, INDIANA UNIVERSITY.

There was in the State Treasury November 30, 1904, unloaned, the sum of $74,674 of the fund known as the College or Indiana University Fund. On January 1, 1899, the balance in the treasury of the fund was $26,875.15 and it has constantly accumulated in the Treasury since, reaching the sum of $78,998 unloaned on January 1, 1904. While this money lies in the State Treasury the college receives no benefit from it, and some plan should be devised whereby it can be loaned and the college receive near $4,000 per annum therefrom, whereas while it remains in the Treasury the college loses this income. I suggest one of the two plans, viz.:

First. Consolidate the College Fund with the Permanent Endowment Fund (which fund belongs also to the State University) and allow it to be distributed to the various counties of the State in the same manner as the Permanent Endowment Fund is now distributed and there be loaned by the County Auditors, the county being responsible for the principal and also for the yearly interest.

Second. Remove the limit on loans to be made by the State Auditor, so he can loan in larger amounts and on better security; but provide that no loan can be made from that fund until the Trustees of the University have approved the loan and security after it is passed on by the State Auditor. The adoption of either of the above plans would result in the money being placed at interest almost immediately, or within a short time after a law on the subject became in force.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS.

The Building and Loan Associations have been under the nominal supervision of this department for over ten years, but it has only extended to the making of annual reports. If this supervision is to be of any real benefit compulsory examinations, at least once a year, should be required. No system of reports can develop unsafe methods or actual wrongdoing when the officer making them is interested in concealing the facts. This has been demonstrated so many times during the ten years that these reports have been made to the Stae, that authority to make examinations is asked in the interest of effective supervision.

LAND DEPARTMENT.

The principal work of this department is confined to answering letters of inquiry relating to land entries and original surveys. Hundreds of such letters are received annually, and the investigations required consume much time and labor. The State has a large amount of lands and lots forfeited to the State from the Permanent Endowment and College Funds of the State, and the title to a large part of this property has recently been quieted in the State and are now ready to be sold.

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

PRIVATE BANKS.

During the past two years there have been a number of failures of private banks in this State. The general public has confused these with the State institutions, and there has been more or less criticism of State supervision. It should be clearly understood that there is no supervision whatever over these institutions and that they are in no way connected with the system of State banks.

The discussion of these failures has brought about a public sentiment demanding that there be established a system of supervision over private banks.

The relation between banker and depositor is one of trusteeship. There is no other form of trust in which the law does not seek to protect the beneficiary. Why should there be an exception made of the private bank? The need of this protection is best shown by the record of bank failures in this State since 1893, and this can be said without disparagement to the system of private banks. By far the larger per cent. of private bankers (as is true of national and State bankers) are conducting a safe and legitimate banking business. In any system supervision is needed for the protection of the honest banker and his depositor, as laws against robbery are needed for the protection of a community. Under the lack of law which we now have any person with sufficient money or credit to secure a safe and few fixtures can engage in private banking without a dollar of capital to protect his depositor. No one can or will argue that this should be permitted, yet it has been done and will continue to be done, unless a remedy is provided. Neither is there reason or argument in permitting any one in the banking business to speculate with the funds of his depositor without let or hindrance. The experience of the past teaches that these are evils which have developed from permitting any person to engage in banking without placing restrictions of any kind upon his business. It is a condition which should not longer be tolerated.

In view of the public sentiment on this question the General Assembly will undoubtedly be called upon to act. In any legislation upon the subject two things should be kept in mind—a fixed capital invested in the business and the supervising officer given power, through the right to apply for receivers, to enforce safe and legitimate methods in the conduct of the business.

BANK FAILURES.

Since May 1, 1893, so far as this department has been able to gather the facts, four national banks, eleven State banks and thirty-one private banks, have failed. Of this number one national and eight State banks paid their depositors in full and the only loss was to the stockholders. Of the State bank failures all but two occurred in the midst of the panic of 1893 and were caused by their alliance with the "Dwiggins system" of banks. One of the national banks has paid 61 per cent. to depositors and two others are in process of liquidation, and it is estimated that they will pay 25 and 40 per cent. respectively. The two State banks that are in process of liquidation it is estimated will pay 55 and 62 per cent. respectively, and one that has been finally wound up paid 96 per cent. A few of the private banks are in process of liquidation, and the estimate of what will be paid is used as the amount that will be finally received by depositors. Only one has paid in full, the next highest amount being 85 per cent. There were six banks paying 75 to 85 per cent., six paying 50 to 75 per cent., nine paying 25 to 50 per cent., six paying less than 25 per cent., and in three nothing was paid. In the failures of national banks there was a loss of 40 per cent. to depositors; in the State banks 12 per cent., and in the private banks 52 per cent.

STATE BANKS.

For the more effective supervision of these banks the following amendments to the present law are urged:

That all banks be required to use the word "State" in their corporate name; that before beginning business a certificate of the payment of the required amount of capital, verified by the president and cashier, should be filed in this department and a certificate authorizing the bank to begin business issued to it; all active officers should be required to give bonds and these bonds filed in the office of the Auditor of State, and the filing of such bonds should be a condition precedent to entering upon the discharge of their duties; reports of examiners to the Auditor of State should be made confidential and subject only to his inspection, and to the officers of the bank and to courts, in litigation involving the affairs of the bank. All overdrafts should be prohibited by law and penalties provided. In case any examination should disclose excessive loans, the Auditor of State should have power to require a reduction of such loans to an amount deemed safe, and when such is asked he should have power to call for a verified statement that they have been made and the making of a false statement should be a punishable offense. Where after the first year of the bank the earnings are not sufficient to meet the expenses and carry the required amount to the surplus, authority should be given to the Auditor of State to require an assessment upon the capital stock to make good any deficit.

Upon the re-incorporation of any existing bank, or upon a private or national bank incorporating under the State law, an examination should be required before beginning business and the Auditor empowered to determine what assets of the institution to be absorbed may be purchased by the new corporation.

In recent years there has been more or less of a desire to engage in branch banking, and there is one case where a branch bank has been established. The law is silent upon this subject. The wisdom of permitting branch banking is doubted, but if it is the policy of the law to permit it permission for it should be made and the procedure in conducting branches should be defined by law.

TRUST COMPANIES.

There are now fifty-nine trust companies doing business in the State, and it is gratifying to report that they are acquiring a large share of the business of handling estates. The courts are looking with more favor upon them and are usually pleased to have them in control of this class of business, their methods relieving judges of much labor in supervising this class of trust. Their organization and equipment is such that they can manage estates in a more satisfactory manner and with less expense than the individual. With their experience, responsibility and ability to care for estates involved in debt they become the ideal administrator of all kinds of trusts. They are also occupying another field that makes them valuable to their communities—caring for savings deposits. They now have $12,167,419 of such deposits, representing 57,226 depositors. In this they are doing a good work and are rapidly increasing this class of deposits.

INSURANCE DEPARTMENT.

The insurance business of the State is steadily increasing in volume and never before have all the conditions surrounding it been of as satisfactory a nature as at present.

The Indiana laws regulating this very important branch of the business of the State compare most favorably with those of other States. However, I desire to make two recommendations in regard to a possible improvement in the existing legislation.

Section I of Chapter 245 of the Acts of 1899 require that before any insurance company incorporated by any other State than the State of Indiana can be admitted to do business in this State it must show that it has $200,000 invested in a certain class of securities which includes bonds of the counties, cities or towns of this State, but not of counties, cities, or towns of other States. The General Assembly in 1901 attempted to relieve the very evident hardship imposed by this law by enacting Chapter 180 of the Acts of 1901 in which the class of securities above referred to was enlarged by the addition of bonds of the counties, cities, or towns of some other State of the United States, but, owing to an error in the title of this Act, the then Attorney-General held it to be unconstitutional.

The law as it now stands is particularly burdensome in the case of fire insurance companies, and keeps out of the State many companies whose reliability is unquestioned, thus making it at times difficult, if not impossible, for citizens of the State to secure the amount of protection which prudence demands.

I am convinced that the enactment of a bill similar, as to the class of investments, to that passed in 1901, but which shall be constitutional, will inure to the great benefit of the people of the State.

The other measure to which I trust the General Assembly will give most careful consideration is the enactment of a law establishing within this State the office of State Fire Marshal.

I believe that such a law, properly framed and energetically enforced, would do much to decrease the fire loss of the State, and would give great relief in the matter of a decrease in the high rates which the dishonesty and carelessness of a few now compel the many to pay.

If this office shall be created by the Legislature, it is my opinion that it should have no connection with that of the Auditor of State, except that the latter should have the right to demand such information as he might wish to have for the benefit of the Insurance Department, and through the Insurance Department should collect from the fire companies the amount necessary for the maintenance of the office.

The increasing business of this department is in part shown by the fact that at the close of the second year of my term of office I will have collected and paid into the State Treasury, taxes and fees from insurance companies of approximately $700,000, as against $1,003,932 collected during the four years of my predecessor's incumbency, and that, in spite of the fact that the last legislature took action which reduced the annual amount charged for agents' licenses.

ESTIMATED RECEIPTS AND DISBURSEMENTS FOR YEARS 1906 AND 1907.

In accordance with law, the following estimate is made of the probable receipts to the State Treasury, and the disbursements therefrom, for the years 1906 and 1907:

RECEIPTS.

In estimating the receipts for these years, I assume that the amount of the duplicate, the rate of the tax levy, the percentage of delinquent taxes, and the aggregate of fees collected by the different State officers, together with the earnings and income of the various State institutions, will remain about as at the present time. I have undertaken to be conservative in every item, and feel assured that the receipts will exceed the estimate.

The total taxable property of the State for the year 1904, and upon which the taxes for the year 1905 will be extended, is $1,543,861,729; the amount of the mortgage deductions claimed for the year is $40,591,727, which leaves a net tax duplicate, upon which taxes will be assessed, of $1,503,270,002. Assuming this to be the duplicate for the years 1906 and 1907, the tax levied for the General Fund of the State Treasury, at the rate of 9 cents on every $100 of property, would be $1,352,943. Assuming that 5 per cent. of these taxes can not be collected, the total amount accruing to the fund would be $1,285,296. The total number of persons, as shown by reports of county auditors, in the State subject to poll tax for the year is 433,257. Taking this as a basis, the amount of poll tax placed upon the duplicate for the General Fund would be $216,628. Assuming that 65 per cent. of this tax is collected, we have $140,808 accruing to the fund. In addition to these amounts, there will probably be $40,000 delinquent tax carried over from the old duplicate and collected during the year. Adding the amounts $1,285,296, $140,808 and $40,000, we have a total income to the General Fund of $1,466,104.

In addition to this, this fund will receive the tax accruing from the levy of 5 cents on every $100 for the Benevolent Institutions of the State. Taking the taxable property, $1,503,270,002, and making calculations at the rate of 5 cents on every $100, we have a total levy for this fund of $751,635. Assuming that 95 per cent. will be collected, we have an income of $714,053. To this should be added $16,000 of probable delinquency that is carried from the old duplicate, and which can be collected during the year, which makes a total of $730,053, probable receipts to the fund. This added to the $1,466,104, makes a total of $2,196,157 receipts from taxation.

Adding to this amount the following probable receipts:

$507,000—Collections by Officers.
132,000—Earnings of Institutions.
76,000—Receipts from counties on account of clothing on inmates in State Institutions.
54,000—On account of Government Aid, State Soldiers' Home.
6,000—Miscellaneous Collections.

Or a total—$775,000

we have a grand total of $2,971,157 probable receipts to the General Treasury of the State.

DISBURSEMENTS.

It is understood that the following estimate of disbursements does not include any specific appropriations to be made by the present Legislature, but is based solely upon the running expenses of the State Government, as shown by the appropriation acts now in force. It is also to be noticed that no estimate for repairs in the various Institutions is made. This is omitted in view of the fact that the statute now provides for the appointment of a committee to visit the various State Institutions, in connection with the Governor, to ascertain the necessities of the Institutions, and report the same, with recommendations, to the Legislature.

INDIANA

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION DEPARTMENT

1904

D. E. SHERRICK,
Auditor of State.

D. J. MENDENHALL, Chief Clerk.

INDIANAPOLIS:
WM. B. BURFORD, CONTRACTOR FOR STATE PRINTING AND BINDING.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATION DEPARTMENT.

The reports of the several building and loan associations now doing business in the State are herewith submitted, as required by law. For the year ending June 30, 1904, three hundred and seventy-seven associations reported, twenty-nine of which are in liquidation. There are now about three hundred and forty associations engaged in active business, and while these reports show a slight falling off in the aggregate amount of business from the previous year, the active associations have in reality made a gain. It is probable that, as to number and volume of business, they have reached a point where the future will not show much change. The average investor will deposit his money in bank at a low rate of interest, but will refuse to invest in building and loan stock unless the dividends are 6 per cent. or more. With the present low rates of interest prevailing the association can not earn the profits of former years, and if conducting business on a safe basis can not make dividends of over 4 or 5 per cent. Small dividends, likewise, has its effect upon the borrower; yet it is the only practical way offered for the average person to acquire a home by small payments and a low rate of interest. Most associations are now loaning at 6 per cent. and such a rate with 4 per cent. or 5 per cent. dividends should attract those desiring a home upon which they must make small payments, and the well managed local association offers them this opportunity.

BANK DEPARTMENT

D. E. SHERRICK, Auditor of State
D. J. MENDENHALL, Chief Clerk

BANKS AND TRUST COMPANIES.

The following statements show the condition, October 31, 1904, of each bank, trust company and savings bank operating under the State law. There are also given tables showing the resources and liabilities of the State banks at the dates of the different calls for statements during the past fiscal year. Also comparative statements showing the condition of these banks, trust companies and savings banks, October 31, 1903, and October 31, 1904.

During the year there have been incorporated thirty-one State banks and seven trust companies. The names and location of these will be found in their proper places in this report. There are now 166 State banks, fifty-nine trust companies and five savings banks operating under the State laws.

The Farmers Bank at Auburn closed its doors January 14, 1904, and Norman I. Jackman was appointed receiver by the Dekalb Circuit Court, February 20, 1904. The depositors will receive about 55 per cent. of their claims.

Upon the recommendation of this department the Union Trust Company was appointed receiver of the Commercial Trust Company of Indianapolis on March 28, 1904. All depositors have been paid in full.

ANNUAL REPORT

OF THE

AUDITOR OF STATE

OF THE

STATE OF INDIANA

YEAR ENDING OCTOBER 31, 1904

LAND DEPARTMENT

DAVID E. SHERRICK, Auditor of State

D. J. MENDENHALL, Chief Clerk

LAND DEPARTMENT.

The very prosperous condition of the country reflected, as it has been, by advancing prices for farm lands and desirable town lots, has resulted in the State being able to close out a very great deal of property that has accrued through the foreclosure of College and Permanent Endowment Fund loans. There is but a very light holding of such property now in the possession of the State. The low interest rates have resulted in inability to make loans of the College Fund, so that a large per cent. of the fund is lying unused in the State Treasury. It is almost impossible with the current ruling rates for interest to loan this fund at 6 per cent., and in sums of $500 or less.

In the matter of foreclosure of mortgages, should any have to be made in the future, I would suggest the practice of having sales made by the Auditor and Treasurer of State be superseded by regular foreclosure in the county courts where the land may be located. I believe this step would be advisable in order that an additional personal judgment may be taken supplementary to that rendered with the closing of the mortgage.

The principal work of this department is confined to answering letters of inquiry relating to land entries and original surveys. Hundreds of such letters are received annually, and the investigations required consume much time and labor.

There still remains in this office a large number of patents, conveying Wabash and Erie Canal lands. The law directs that these be recorded in the county where the land is situate, and until this is done there will be a defect in the title to these lands. Patents, some issued by the State as early as 1832, and others by the trustees of the canal as late as 1876, are here for lands in Allen, Benton, Carroll, Cass, Clay, Crawford, Daviess, Dubois, Fulton, Gibson, Greene, Huntington, Jasper, Knox, Kosciusko, Lake, Lawrence, Marshall, Martin, Miami, Monroe, Newton, Noble, Orange, Owen, Parke, Perry, Pike, Posey, Pulaski, Putnam, Spencer, Sullivan, Vanderburgh, Vermillion, Wabash, Warrick, White and Whitley counties. It is hoped that the owners of canal lands in the counties named, who have not yet obtained their patents and had them recorded, will do so at once in order that their titles may be made perfect.

The records in this office show that no patents have been issued for several hundred tracts of swamp and University lands. Most of these tracts have undoubtedly been sold, but purchasers have neglected to obtain patents for same. This failure leads to trouble when the present owners desire to sell or mortgage their lands. Such owners should send to this office their certificates of purchase and obtain patents.

*The Auditor and Treasurer of this county declined to appoint appraisers for these lands, as the law directs, because they are worthless, and not enough money could be realized from their sale to pay expenses.

In addition to the above the State still holds 234 lots in Tell City, Perry county, forfeited for taxes under the act of March 2, 1883. These lots are of little value, most of them being appraised at $1 each. Also 26 lots in Cambridge City, Wayne county, forfeited under provisions of the same act, and 7 lots in Ft. Wayne, Allen county, and one tract in said county containing 12.25 acres.

LANDS HELD BY THE STATE BY DEEDS

MARION COUNTY.

The east half of the strip of land lying south of the cross-cut of the Central Canal, in the city of Indianapolis, more particularly described as follows, to wit: Commencing at the junction of Market and West streets and running thence west on the line of Market street to the western boundary of the land known on the plat of the city of Indianapolis as "the reservation"; thence north to the southern base of the embankment of said canal; thence east along said canal embankment to West street; thence south to Market street, the place of beginning. The title to this tract of land was held to be in the State in the suit of the State of Indiana vs. the Water Works Company of Indianapolis, by a decree of the Hendricks Circuit Court, rendered at the January term, 1879.

The tract is held by the Indianapolis Benevolent Society, under a lease executed by M. D. Manson, Auditor of State, April 1, 1880.

All that portion of the southeast quarter of section one (1) in township fifteen (15) north, range two (2) east, contained in the following boundaries: Beginning in the Rockville road, at the southwest quarter of said quarter section, running thence north forty (40) chains and twenty-five (25) links to the center of said section; thence east along the north line of said quarter section twenty-one (21) chains and forty-five (45) links; thence south twenty (20) chains; thence east six (6) chains and seventy-five (75) links; thence south twenty (20) chains and twenty-five (25) links to the south line of said section; thence west along said south line in said Rockville road twenty-eight (28) chains and twenty (20) links to the place of beginning, containing one hundred acres, more or less.

This tract was originally purchased as the site of the House of Refuge. When the location of that institution was removed to near Plainfield the land was sold to Wm. J. McCaslin, who failed to make payment therefor, and the title to the same was in continuous litigation until affirmed to be in the State by decision of the Supreme Court, rendered at the November term, 1884.

The act of 1889 authorized the sale of this land, and it was sold, but in a suit for possession the Marion Circuit Court set the sale aside on the ground of irregularity in sale.

In addition to the foregoing the State holds title to the following described premises, which have not been appraised or offered for sale:

Lots 242 and 243, in E. J. Peck's subdivision of the south part of outlot 134, in the city of Indianapolis. Conveyed to the State by E. J. Peck and wife in consideration of $40, and with this provision: "Said lots to be used as a place of burial for the dead, and for no other use whatever, and if otherwise used then to be forfeited to the original proprietors, their heirs or assigns."

The business of the Board at its regular session having been disposed of, and the Board being about to adjourn, Mr. John C. Wingate, Tax Commissioner, arose and presented to Governor Winfield T. Durbin, chairman of the Board, a beautiful bronze statue, "The Sower," by the French artist, Millet, as a gift from the members of the Board in token of their high regard for him, and spoke eloquently and feelingly as follows:

Every day has its night; each beginning has an ending; there is a negative for each positive, else the world could not stand. In keeping with this order of things, Governor, the term of the office to which you were elected four years ago, is now in the last half of its last year; the truth of which you are daily reminded by passing events. The office of Governor of Indiana is one that may well be coveted by the best representative of the State's splendid citizenship. Unlike the Governor of many States in the Union, our Governor has to do directly with the important departments of our State government. Of these none is more basic than that dealing with the questions of the assessment and taxation of property; questions of the keenest interest to all the people. The burdens imposed in the raising of revenues for State and local purposes should be borne equally by the dollar values of property, regardless of ownership; but whether equal or unequal, they must be borne. Hence, the extreme necessity of the deepest concern and greatest care on the part of the assessing authorities.

Your associates on this Tax Board have thought it most fitting and appropriate, here, in this closing scene of the last regular session of the Board during your term of office, to present you with some evidence of their appreciation and admiration of your persistent and unceasing efforts to bring out in detail every phase of the work of the Board, to the end that justice may come alike to the rich and to the poor.

The value of a gift is not to be estimated by its intrinsic worth, but rather by what it represents and by the motive that prompts the giver. It is our most earnest pleasure to assure you that, measured by this rule, the gift we bring you today may indeed be treasured as of much value.

The vigor and stable manhood of our pioneer ancestry, which has so permanently contributed to the perpetuity of the thrift and energy of our people is characterized in a striking manner in this figure. We like to believe that the men of our generation have risen to their opportunity; have discharged the duties and guarded the trust confided to them; that they have learned well the lessons taught and exemplified by their fathers, and so beautifully shown by the artist in this piece of bronze, and have carried them forward to a larger and more liberal knowledge of the affairs and needs of man. In a temporal sense, what is the greatest heritage to which man is heir? It is a full measure of old-fashioned honesty; a love for work; a desire to do well the things that present themselves from day to day, and a courage to keep faith with one's self. Do we believe in the doctrine of self-made men? Yes; all men are either self-made or self-unmade. Each life is its own artist; its own explorer and guide; working up to its own purpose. As to how nearly you have approached the high standard of this ideal expectancy, let the records of your work and the successes of your eventful life answer.

How pleased the artist must have been when he looked upon the original cast as it disclosed his conception of the sower! And how complete his gratification as he realized that it was the product of the work of his own brain and toil of his own hands. The earnest face, the onward step, the easy swing of the hand, scattering the seed, each movement and expression vying with the whole, looking to the harvest. Let us each and all hope that the memories of the associations on this Board may not be less pleasing to us, and that the friendships formed here, may be as lasting as the metal of which this cast is made.

The Governor, in accepting the gift, addressed the Board as follows:

We are taught, in military life, to always be on our guard for surprises, which, by soldiers, are considered the extreme dangers. The unexpected happenings in warfare are usually the most disastrous. In this instance I am very free to confess that I have been surrounded and entirely cut off from my base of supplies, without the least apprehension of impending danger. I throw up my hands and unconditionally surrender.

To be serious, it has not been my pleasure, during my term of office, to preside over any board which has more profoundly impressed me with the desire of its members to do their full duty under all circumstances, than in the case of the State Board of Tax Commissioners. The work of this Board, I may say to the gentlemen sitting about here, is of a peculiar nature. Its members can not go about their work with brass band parades; their duties are of such a character that must be attended to in a diligent, business-like and quiet manner. For this reason the public can never know much concerning the details of the assessment of property except so far as they are revealed by the results of the work of this Board. I am sure that the members of this Board have given to its work even more of their time and best effort than the law contemplates, and very much more than the general public appreciates. While I can truly say that I have not been associated with any board, with the workings of which I have been better pleased throughout than I have been in the case of this Board, I do not mean to say that we have always been of one mind; that would be to say that we had been careless and indifferent toward the task before us. There have often been five opinions regarding the assessment of a piece of property, but as evidenced by the records, which I believe show only one or two dissenting votes from an unanimous opinion during my term of office, we have all been of one mind when the matter had been fully considered. Whatever has been the action of this Board on the assessment of any property, has been the action of the full Board; and when our decision has been reached, each member has felt that the conclusion was his own. I am sure that I voice the sentiment of all the members of this Board in this expression.

The duties of the assessing officer are often misunderstood by the general public. It has come generally to believe that the assessing officer is responsible for taxes. This notion is entirely wrong. The assessing officer has nothing to do, under any circumstances or conditions, with the levying of taxes; he has nothing to do with providing the means for purchasing the supplies or carrying on the operations of the machinery of government; he has nothing to do with raising or disbursing the funds of either State or county. The work of the assessing officer is to be likened to that of those who take an inventory of stock in a commercial establishment, or perhaps more like that of the appraisers of an estate, with none of the duties of the administrator incumbent upon him. The levying of taxes is done by the Legislature and by the various county officers whose duty it is to raise the funds to provide for county and State expenditures, but not one cent of money can be drawn from these funds, under our splendid laws, except as that money has been appropriated by the Legislature, or by the proper county officers. It is further fair to say that I am impressed by my general knowledge and observation, not such detailed knowledge as I would be glad to have in order to make a positive statement, but such knowledge as would impress me that I am justified in making the declaration that our State government is one of the most economically administered of any State in the Union. There are the fewest ways for money to be used without the sanction of the people of almost any State of which I have knowledge. The people of our country are the best clothed, the best fed, the best housed and the best educated people in the world. In all of these particulars we are glad and proud to say that Indiana stands in the front rank of American commonwealths. Our public institutions and our local public improvements will compare favorably with those of any other State in the Union, and in many particulars they excel. We have a magnificent school system, which will compare favorably with that of any other State in the Union, and we believe that it stands at the very head. All these things are creations of the people, and I need not say that it costs money to maintain them. The people of our State demand substantial bridges across their streams; they want good roads, and they insist that public improvements shall keep pace with the advance in the standard of living that is so pronounced when we contrast present conditions with those that existed in Indiana a few years ago. We have better houses, and they are better furnished; we have better barns, and they are filled with improved farm machinery. And so, we demand that our churches and our school houses shall be in keeping with the standard set in private life. But the better order of things which the people demand in the public service cost money. The people come to the proper officers and demand things which necessitate increased public expenditures. Our people are living better, in a private way, than they have in former years, and it is not surprising to find them asking that public enterprise shall keep pace with private enterprise.

I am free to confess that when I came on this Board I had an idea that I could regulate, in a large degree, and in a way finish up and equalize the assessment of property; but, at this time, I am like the old preacher who, when he had talked for two hours and the people began to nod and show signs of impatience, said: "Brethren, I find the subject enlarging on my hands as I go on." After four years' work on this Board, which has done its work as effectively, in my opinion, as any board charged with its great responsibilities could have done it, I go out of office leaving work in almost every direction still to be done, with the conclusion that the ideal assessment will perhaps never be reached, but with the stronger conclusion that the more effort and the more work the members of this Board continue to do from year to year, the better the assessment will be and the more the people will understand and appreciate the efforts of the members of this Board, and the more general will be the belief that they have honestly tried to do their duty with a view to making our system of taxation as equal and as uniform as possible.

This has not been nor was it intended to be a brilliant administration. We have tried in every manner to make it a business administration, both in detail and in a general way.

And now, in conclusion, gentlemen of the Board, I desire to express my heartfelt appreciation of the beautiful gift you have, in your generosity, seen fit to bestow upon me. I thank your spokesman, Mr. Wingate, for the kindly and eloquent words with which he has accompanied its presentation. It is a source of especial gratification to me that this gift and these expressions should have come from those who have been associated so closely with me in official labors so arduous and so important. The general public, or some part of it, is sometimes, for a time, at least, mistaken as to the character and the purposes of its servants in authority, because of information imperfect or incorrect, but if one may have at the close of his official service the confidence and the esteem of those who by participation with us in public service know the qualities and the motives we have brought to our public labors, this is enough, because their verdict is one found upon the facts.

I am especially glad that your choice of a gift has fallen upon this figure, which, as Mr. Wingate has said, typifies "the vigor and stable manhood of our pioneer ancestry," who in their strength and courage laid the foundations for the present greatness of this commonwealth. Paraphrasing, it has often been said that "it is more pleasant to give than to receive," but out of a grateful heart I say to you that this does not apply in the present instance. I thank you, over and over again.

BIENNIAL REPORT

DEPARTMENT OF STATE

STATE OF INDIANA,
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY OF STATE.

HON. WINFIELD T. DURBIN, Governor:

Sir—I have the honor to submit herewith, in compliance with the statutes of this State, the biennial report of the office of Secretary of State for the fiscal period beginning November 1, 1902, and ending October 31, 1904.

Herewith is given a statement of the fees collected within the period mentioned:

Domestic corporations	$193,525 60
Foreign corporations	22,403 50
Miscellaneous	10,202 52
Total	$226,131 62

These figures far surpass the collections of any two years in the previous history of the State, as far as this department is concerned, the actual net increase over the best previous fiscal term being $38,955.31, and this fact should serve to impress legislators and the general public with the growing importance of this office, now conducted at an expense but fractionally greater than when the business amounted to but one-fourth or one-third as much as at present. The actual expense of the office, including all salaries and appropriations for operating expenses, is now but about $13,850 per year, or $27,700 for the fiscal term of two years, and therefore this report shows a net profit to the State of nearly $200,000. For the purpose of comparison I append the figures of preceding fiscal terms for twelve years past, as given in the biennial reports of my predecessors, as follows:

Two years ending October 31, 1892	$46,000 00
Two years ending October 31, 1894	76,487 20
Two years ending October 31, 1896	61,125 55
Two years ending October 31, 1898	54,326 30
Two years ending October 31, 1900	137,154 85
Two years ending October 31, 1902	187,176 31

It will be readily noticed that only in recent years has the office shown any considerable excess of receipts over expenditures, due unquestionably to a general prosperity and an enterprising public purpose to most fully develop the rich natural resources of our great and growing Commonwealth. The record is one for congratulation, and in it is found reason for great public pride and official felicitation.

The General Assembly of 1903 took cognizance of defects in the corporation laws of Indiana and wisely made provision for the codification thereof, the commission being composed of Judge M. A. Chipman, Judge Timothy E. Howard and Daniel E. Storms. In the organization of this commission Mr. George Shirts was elected as clerk. The fact of the creation of this commission, whose duty it is to report to the next session of the General Assembly, precludes the necessity for recommendation from this office regarding corporation laws.

In 1903 the General Assembly made special appropriation of $2,000 for re-equipping the vault with much-needed file boxes. Contract for these was awarded to the lowest and best bidder, the price therefor being $1,700 and the residue reverting to the treasury. With the placing of these new steel constructed boxes there was a transfer of all papers from the old to new receptacles, the boxes being newly numbered, and there is now a sufficient reserve of file cases to last for many years.

Hon. Union B. Hunt, my efficient predecessor, in his last report recommended an appropriation of $2,000 a year for the better enforcement of the foreign corporation law, making prophecy that for each dollar so invested a return of five for one would certainly be secured to the State. The accuracy of that statement can be verified by an investigation of the fees collected from foreign corporations under this provision, the appropriation having been made, and it is my duty to reiterate his request and ask a renewal of this appropriation in order that the good work may go steadily forward. There are corporations organized under the laws of other States and Territories that give no heed to the Indiana requirements except they are sought out and brought to a compliance with the law, and in order that this may be done it is necessary that the fund be at hand with which to carry on the work.

From the sales of Supreme and Appellate Court Reports, items not included in the preceding reference to fees collected, the amount received has been $17,337 for the period beginning November 1, 1902, and ending October 31, 1904. My predecessor recommended, on account of the increase of business during his term, that better and more convenient arrangements be made for the care of these reports, the reserve stock of which is necessarily stored in the basement under Room No. 3 and used jointly by the Secretary of State and the Bureau of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery, urging that a stairway connect Room 3 and the basement and that shelves be provided for the books. Added increase of business during my incumbency suggests that I emphasize the need of this stairway and enclosed shelves on which to store the court reports. This arrangement would not only materially expedite the shipments, but would also better preserve the State's valuable property. At present these books are exposed to the varying conditions of atmosphere and to the dust and dirt that unavoidably finds its way into the room. Damaged books are unsalable, and hence losses are constantly accruing. A moderate expenditure would be an act of economy. The wisdom of this request, in my judgment, can be readily determined by an investigation of existing conditions.

Experience with the records of the office has demonstrated that many of them are in a state of decay and that all such must be copied if they are to be properly preserved. The work involved in such an undertaking is beyond the capacity of the present force, and I respectfully urge that a special appropriation of $4,000 be made for the employment of additional clerk hire to be used for this purpose. This is work that ought not to be delayed, since neglect absolutely endangers the public records.

Under the custom of this office an abstract of vote has been prepared, published and distributed. In order to prepare this abstract of vote it is necessary to get the vote by precincts of the different counties from the several clerks. Under present laws there is some question as to the duties of the clerks in this matter, and I would recommend that the Legislature enact such laws as are necessary to clearly define the duties of the clerks, fixing such penalties for the failure to furnish such information to this office as the Legislature may deem expedient.

The report of the Bureau of Public Printing, Binding and Stationery, as prepared by Thomas J. Carter, Clerk of said Board, is included in this report. The completeness of the report shows that Mr. Carter has absolutely mastered this important branch of the State's business. There is no subordinate position in the State of more importance, or one that requires a higher grade of ability, than that of the Clerk of that department. The State is fortunate in having such a capable man in this place.

I have been most fortunate in the selection of my entire office force, and I want to especially commend the work of my assistant, Frank I. Grubbs. His years of experience with the public and in newspaper work brought him to this office splendidly equipped for the important work of Assistant Secretary of State. The promptness with which the business of this office has been dispatched is largely due to his unceasing care and efforts in that direction, and I want to thank him in this public way for the favorable manner in which he has discharged every duty.
